- “For the safety of staff and shelter guests, we continue to recommend reduced occupancy and physical distancing. Distancing is a recommendation, but not a mandate and providers may, at their discretion, decide on measures appropriate to their specific sites.” ~Dr. Moss, ACPHD
- What is a Positive Case?
A frequent source of confusion is how we know if someone has COVID-19, and when they are safe to return to the site or return to work. The guidance has been very confusing. We suggest people think of it in these simple terms:
  - A positive test OR symptoms should be treated as a positive COVID case.
  - A positive rapid test is almost certain to be correct. But a negative rapid test may not be. That's why we consider symptoms to be the same as a positive test.
  - 10 days after symptoms start OR 10 days after your first positive test, you are no longer contagious. It does not matter what your test results say after 10 days - you are not contagious anymore.
  - The most common symptoms of COVID-19 are fever, cough, tiredness. Other signs are sore throat, diarrhea, breathing problems, eye problems, headache, loss of taste or smell, rash. If someone newly has any of these symptoms, consider them to have COVID-19. You do not need to administer a rapid test, and it may give you a false sense of safety to do so.
  - Well-fitting masks and vaccination are still the best protection we have against this virus. Masks must be worn at all times indoors by residents and staff unless sleeping or eating. During outbreaks and surges, we recommend N95 masks be worn by all residents and staff while indoors. Masks save lives. Reach out if we can help with access to good quality masks.
